Solano Stroll

Looks Like Never Before!

On a beautiful, warm Sunday in September, people from Albany and Berkeley came to Solano Avenue. They spent their day strolling, eating, laughing, and dancing in the street. The occasion? Solano Stroll, of course. Every year this festivity takes place in honor of our very unique Solano Avenue. At the Stroll, there were a variety of things to do, from listening to every type of music to munching on many different kinds of food. Solano Stroll was terrific this year, "like never before."

Left to Right: Cougar mascot (Neva Keret) shows spirit. Emily leads the band in precise formation. Benji, showing our country's stars and stripes. Natasha, and friends, lead Albany in a cheer. Studio Bob. Kevin, Scott, Andy, Mike and Tip.

THE INFORMER

The Inside Scoop

The Informer is a newspaper published three times a semester. This paper used to be called plainly, AHS News. It was then changed to the Grimalkin, which means fat, lazy cat. In 1971, Mrs. Connie Woulf came to Albany High and held a contest to rename the school newspaper. Jonathan Michael won the contest with the new name of The Informer. Mrs. Woulf has been the advisor of the paper since she came to teach at AHS, and this year she is in charge since there is no student editor in charge. There are four student editors on the staff, who each have reporters working under them.

Before starting each issue, the Informer staff brainstorms for ideas that they want in the next issue. Then the editors decide which articles they want to pursue, and the reporters go out and write!

The AHS Print class, under the supervision of Mr. John Thomsen, prints each issue of the paper. The front page has all the feature articles on it. The news is printed in the middle spread and the back spread is used for sports.

The Informer staff meets as Journalism class first period for English credit. The class works hard, but is rewarded, celebrating the meeting of their deadlines and seeing their own words in print!

The Faces of AHS Scholars

Make it all seem so easy

It's hard to be a scholar

Study and Snooze

Teachers rant, rave, and
 Students yawn, stare, and snore
 Cursing homework that is much too long
 We know our answers will be all wrong
 Ah well, that's life;
 Filled with academic strife,
 Don't worry, never fear,
 For the end is growing near
 In two years, maybe more,
 We are all out the door
 These were the words we are going to say:
 We are old, senile, and gray.
 It's over with the teacher's rule,
 Good ALBANY HIGH SCHOOL!

HOMECOMING WEEK

Homcoming week was filled with many spirited smiles. On Monday, students were seen wearing their pajamas. It's pajama day. During lunch, Mike P. won the President's Eating Contest. On Tuesday, the school was full of friends and jocks. At lunch the cheerleaders turned into football players, and the football players were cheerleaders for the exchange game. Wednesday was full of students from two areas, the 50's and 60's. It was the excitement the Seniors and guys ganged up on the Seniors for a game of powder puff football. Thursday was Aroha day, with bright colors and many eyes. On that day, every Senior got to see their name on a huge poster. This Homcoming Spirit Week was one never to be forgotten.

Fun, Spirit and Smiles

Homecoming Faces Are Afloat

The Juniors (class of 88) took first place overall in the homecoming activities this year for the first time, but won first place for their float for the second year in a row. Their hall decorations were great, and the courtyard's graveyard was one-of-a-kind. The Juniors, following the theme of Halloween, used witches as the theme to make up their float. A cauldron was the main attraction and was backed up by a broom and a witch's hat.

The Sophomores conquered second place and a tombstone to represent the Halloween theme. They had dry ice behind the tombstone to resemble fog in the cemetery.

Taking third place the freshmen had more of a gory float. They used body parts (from a mannequin), fake blood (ketchup) and Friday the 13th posters covering their truck.

In last place the Seniors came up with the most interesting idea. Weighing over 100 pounds, the pumpkin with a face of 87 was towed all over Albany in a little red wagon. Towing this wagon was Meg Peterson and Andrea Tung dressed to the tee in red and white. The sign carriers from the class of 1987 had a little trouble spelling "Seniors 87".

All in all, the Homecoming parade and game was a success, especially because the Cougars beat the Scots 10 to 7.

From X-Country to tennis, the Albany athletes are full of Cougar spirit and drive. In the Fall, our athletes participate in such sports as X-Country, tennis, football and volleyball. During the winter we test our skills at basketball and wrestling. As the year comes to an end, track, softball, and baseball occupy our time. All in all, every sport at Albany High is loved just as much as another

Associated Student Government

The Albany Associated Student Government (A.S.G.) is a group of student representatives who make priority decisions dealing with students at Albany High. They control the calendar of student activities and decide what activities are going on and who is in charge of each activity. The purpose of a student governing body is to make decisions that reflect the desires of all students with a variety of different opinions which enables us to make the best decisions for the majority of the students.

—Andrea Brunetti

This year's A.S.G. will witness its both failures and triumphs as well as the growth of members' maturity and ability. We have just worked as a group we ever known. I believe each of us will leave here with a new sense of maturity, responsibility, and self-importance.

—Christina Dravis

This year's A.S.G. has proven to be a cooperative and unselfish body of concerned student representatives competently fulfilling its obligation to the students by being active in school affairs and voting decisive results thus allowing for Albany High to be a better institution of secondary education.

AHS BLOOD DRIVE

ALBANY STUDENTS GIVING ALL THEY'VE GOT

This was the most successful blood drive ever! After everyone was trained there were 88 units of blood total. We even had seven teachers, an assistant principal, a secretary, and a parent donate blood. These pints are now credits toward our school, in case someone is in need of blood sometime this year. Perhaps next year, Albany High will have two blood drives instead of just one.

Bye Bye Birdie

A Musical Comedy

Book by Michael Stewart
Music by Charles Strouse
Lyrics by Lee Adams

Directed by Lawrence Harada
Choreography by Karen Stenger
Musical Assistance by Janeen Rydman
Music Accompany by Mary Wallmann

Summary

Set in the late 50's, the musical Bye Bye Birdie parodies Elvis Presley's drafting in the army. The rock star this time around is the fictitious Conrad Birdie, who has been drafted into the army, much to the dismay of the teenage population of America. This musical comedy's storyline revolves around the "One Last Kiss" Conrad is to bestow upon one lucky girl (Kim MacAfee) before he leaves. The central adult characters are Albert Peterson, Conrad's manager; Rose Peterson, Albert's secretary and fiancée; Mrs. Peterson, Albert's domineering mother; and Mr. MacAfee, Kim's father. The central teenage characters are Kim, the lucky girl; Hugo Peabody, her jealous boyfriend; and Ursula, Kim's best friend. Among the memorable songs from this production are "Put On A Happy Face," "Kids Telephone Hour," and "One Last Kiss."

Cougar Follies

Faces in the Spotlight

Cougar Follies has been a tradition at Albany High for many years. The Senior class produces it to earn money for their class. Ramyar Tabatabaian, Mike Parham, Jeff Kim, Dan Shepherd, Kevin Arnold, and Andy Seltzer were in charge of this years production. Early in November they held auditions. Many different types of acts tried out and, luckily, they all received a spot in the show.

On January 22nd and 23rd, at 7:30 pm, the 1987 production of the Follies was held. In the spotlight, on Thursday and Friday night, was Mr. Fred Brill, Master of Ceremonies. He juggled, did flips, and read Dr. Seuss' Fox 'N Sox. Next appeared the commercial addicts, presenting a few of our favorite TV ads. Many singers performed, including Scott Sterling, Sara Huang, Anne McSweeney, Semoine Sykes, Scott Thomson, Andy Seltzer, and Chaz Green. Following these acts came the band "Rabbi Conspiracy," some instrumental music from Joe Ghione and Ethan Hall, and, last but not least, the Senior Men On Campus left us breathless with Happy Trails, sung for every Senior lady.

Everyone who participated in 1987's Cougar Follies did a fabulous job, as well as "showed off" their acquired talents.

The Commercial Addicts showing how commercials should be done. Adam Ridge and Chris Read, the light crew. Semoine sings wonderful songs by Teena Marie and Irene Cara. Mr. Fred Brill practices his juggling. Senior Men warm up their voices singing Happy Trails.

The AMERICAN FIELD SERVICE (A.F.S.) promotes cultural understanding by sending and receiving students from different parts of the world. As a club, A.F.S. is a support group for our exchange students. Through international days, parties, and pizza night, A.F.S. has been an active part of the community and especially, Albany High. Our exchange student, Osama, has run cross-country, and taken physics (which he has enjoyed immensely). We sincerely hope that Osama has enjoyed his experiences at Albany High.

This is Osama Hay-Ali, our A.F.S. student from Jordan. He lived in Albany with the Jennings family and graduated with the class of '87. When asked what was different about our country, his response was, "Everything!" In his own country, they eat more rice was his answer as we asked differences. When asked what he thought was the major difference between countries, he responded, "Here, everyone is busy all the time. Everyone is in a hurry. Here, almost everyone works. In Jordan only the father works. Here, the children are more free. At 18, a child can do anything he wants. At home, that is unheard of. The family is always together at home. Children don't leave when they turn eighteen." Thank Osama, keep in touch.

The Computer Club has been at A.H.S. for the past ten years. It consists of a group of students that have an interest in computers. The activities have included working on computer projects, supervising the computer room, taking educational field trips concerning 'high-tech' topics, and welcoming computer-based demonstrations by computer specialists. Their goal for this year was to take an Alpine ski trip to the Sierras. To raise the money for the trip, the Computer Club ran car washes, worked in the kitchen during Bingo night, and held numerous other fund raisers.

Bike Club

ADVISERS Joe Cruz and Ed Hill MEMBERS Jeanette Provost, Kerry Wong, Jack Fu, Adam Richardson, Eric Gray, Silvia Blaton

▲ "The aim of the Bike Club is simple: to go on bike rides and have fun, and if we get fit along with it, all the better. We ride usually on Friday afternoons about 3:30 and go to various places, such as Inspiration Point, Emeryville, Grizzly Peak, or Briones Park. The rides typically last for one or two hours, after which we feed our faces (or the club's, of course). A good bike is not necessary, but it does help as we meet some pretty long and steep hills. Our motto is: 'Ride, fun, fitness, food' which sums us up quite nicely."

The Official Unofficial Not Really Real Clubs

Senior Men on Campus

This "club" has been a tradition at A H S for many years. And although it is not registered with A S G., we decided that, for once, we'd include them with the rest of the clubs. This group of guys consider themselves the "brother-group" to Senior Girls Honorary. Though not thoroughly organized, as this picture shows, they're just a group of seniors trying to survive their senior year by having as much fun as possible.

W.S.U.

The original name of this club was the We Skate Union, their original idea was to have their picture in the yearbook and raise money for club activities. The original adviser of this club, though, had beliefs contrary to those of its' members and of the club's activities, so the club was officially cancelled. There is no longer an official W.S.U., yet its' spirit lives on. The involved students had always wanted a club, and though it was short-lived, and there was no formal photo of its members in the yearbook, we decided to let them have one of their original goals reached. The well-known name of the club came to be the Whoop Student Union or the Weekend Student Union. Their logo is still seen all over A H S. on people, as well as their T-shirts, sweatshirts, jackets, and binders. "Everyone had a club, so we wanted one, too."

The gals clubs! Sorry, they can no longer be called that as of this year.

The Service Club is an opening for sophomores to do exactly what it says; serve. Such activities as Back to School Night and the Soroptimists' Oktoberfest Open House help members to earn points. Baking foods for school activities like Cougar Follies, the Junior Talent Show, and the annual musical help the club earn money to take on to the next year when they become juniors and Big Sisters! The members of this club get Little Sisters (8th graders from Albany Middle School) and take them to school functions and other outside activities, earning points while doing so. The purpose of this club is to supply a "familiar face" to the new freshmen (at least those that were Little Sisters) in a senior girl, formerly a Big Sister, now a Senior Girl!

Senior Girls Honorary, except this year the club should be called Senior Girls and Guys Honorary, seeing how four of the members are of the male species and one of them is the club's co-president. The club's highlight activity is the annual weekend snow trip in Tahoe. They all stayed in a cabin, skiing and partying all weekend. With guys under the roof this year (oo, let our imaginations wander for a moment) it was really FUN!"

The Black Student Union (BSU) includes most of the Black student body of AHS and has grown significantly over the years, especially in the past two. haunted house, and a planned grand finale program for Black History Month (in February). In October '86 alone, they raised over $200.00 and that was just the beginning. 'Our goal is to raise enough money to have an end-of-the-year trip,' said Tracy, this year's President.

The AHS Ski Club is a club designed to satisfy the desire of those students who love skiing and want a convenient and fun way to hit the slopes. Club organizers made sure the trips were nothing but a chance to get outdoors, to meet new people, and to have fun with friends. At the beginning of the season, snow was very scarce but as the rain began to fall, AHS's skiers couldn't wait to hit the slopes. It was the club members, and especially the organizers, that made this year the success that it was and it was those members that made the AHS Ski Club one of largest, funnest, and most popular clubs at AHS

If You Had the Choice, Would You Go to a Different High School

Patrick Foster, 11th: "It's the best school in the world. It's the best school to be at for a good education. You'll be great."

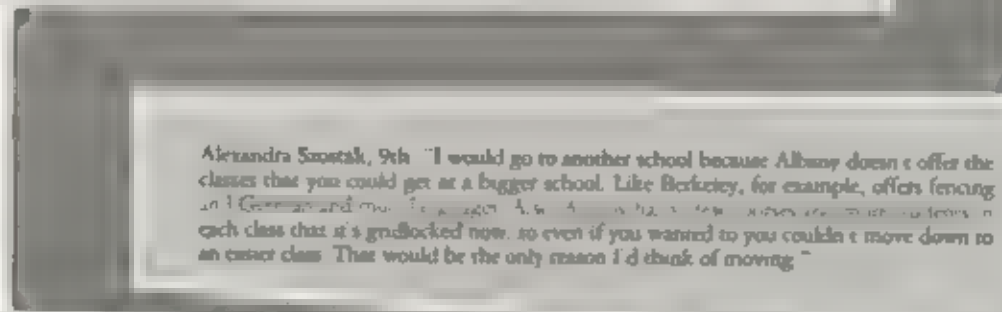

Emily DeWolf, 12th: "I actually like this school because it's a fairly small school and people know each other very well. I also think that you get a fine education."

Lerone Armstrong, 9th: "If I had the choice to go to Albany or not, man, I'd go to Bishop O'Dowd, cause Albany's weak."

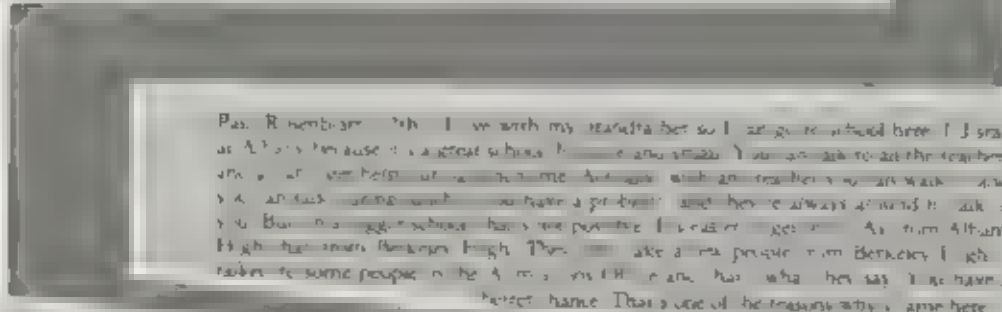

Munko Chu, 11th: "I would stay at Albany. You can play volleyball and go out for the track and be more involved. I think the teachers at Albany are really good. I think they care a lot about what they're doing."

Alexandra Smotak, 9th: "I would go to another school because Albany doesn't offer the classes that you could get at a bigger school. Like Berkeley, for example, offers fencing and German and more languages. Albany has a few classes and then you have to take each class that it's grandfathered in, so even if you wanted to you couldn't move down to an easier class. That would be the only reason I'd think of moving."

Brian Pansky, 11th: "I stay at Albany because it's a nice school with many nice events. I think the school is very good. Everything seems to work. It's a very modern school and every one seems to know everything. The atmosphere at the school is really good."

Pat Rombauer, 10th: "I live with my grandma but so I can go to school here. I stay at Albany because it's a great school. It's nice and small. You don't get to see the teachers and you can't get help at home. And you don't have a problem. And there's always a good class. But in a bigger school, there's no problem. It's easier to get a class. At Albany High School, it's harder to get. That's like a lot of people from Berkeley. I like it better to some people in the Albany area. But what they say is that have a better chance. That's one of the reasons why I am here."

Jim Beech, 10th: "I'd stay here because I like it here the best. I've been to school in other places, like I've been to school in Virginia. People here are nicer and the weather's good. The academics are easier than on the east coast. It's smaller and I like it here the most. I have to leave during the third quarter. I'm moving to Paris, France, to live with my dad. I'm not looking forward to it. I'd rather stay here."

When It Happened, Yearbook Was There!

Albany High School is an oasis in the middle of a desert," was the WASC committee response when they came to Albany about five years ago for accreditation and evaluation. But, the oasis is drying up! The necessary funds to continue many of the classes at Albany (that makes our school so special) are at a desperate low and the financial situation is not getting better as Deukmejian has continuously cut (hacked) the school budget. These cuts come at an inopportune time as the state-wide high school drop-out rate is at an all time high; teenage drug and crime rate is at an all time high; and sadly, the teenage suicide rate is at an all time high, being the second highest killer of teens in America today.

At Albany this year, the board of directors was faced with the first time closure of many vocational and extracurricular classes. At press time, the situation seemed hopeless for the continuation of the auto and wood shop classes. In spite of a unified presentation from the faculty for the comprehensive program, little hope remained for photography classes, printing, mechanical drawing and music.

Parents and students went to the board to stress the fact that the students would not be the only losers. In the long run, the economy would surely suffer with the decreasing number of knowledgeable individuals in life-skills, such as auto mechanics and cabinet-making. In addition, housing values will also decline because one of the reasons why homes in Albany are expensive is because of the high ratings of our schools. Many out-of-district students may go to their local schools that offer the vocational classes, leaving Albany in an even tighter financial bind. And worse, for the student who drops out of school completely, the community can expect an increase in crime, drugs, and violence.

This year was the first year of the proposed drug testing of all athletes. It created much controversy due to the fact that most athletes believed it was an infringement of their constitutional rights. Many athletes protested at board meetings because they felt that the administration was singling them out as drug users, when they are a very small segment of the student population, and not representative of the drug users on campus. Guidelines for the program could not be worked out, so the proposal was dropped.

Our annual talent show, sponsored by the Junior Class, once again exposed the hidden talents of AHS students. Sarah Huang and Simond Sykes lulled the audience with their song, "KISS" and other bands played for the enjoyment of all. The AHS short Flags performed "I Can't Wait" by the Jetts, and the Jazz Band filled in at intermission. It proved to be an enjoyable evening for all who attended.

A.H.S. Talent Show, held in March, raised money for the Junior Prom.

Expressions

We go to the same places, we do the same things, and this year it seems our clothes show it. Unisex is in! From styles to jewelry to brand names, you can see it everywhere. Here are some examples from AHS

- Thermals
 - Jean Jackets
 - Logo sweatshirts (i.e. College or Sports)
 - Plaids and Flannels
 - Rugby Shirts
 - Man-sized sweaters
 - Anything black
 - Leather jackets
 - Topcoats
 - Ripped jeans
 - Leggings
 - Hoop earrings
- (more and more guys are getting their ears pierced)
- Anklets
 - "Chain" necklaces

Brand names are going unisex, too! People can get their favorite clothes in either the guys or the girls departments in stores. They'll be in both places

- Fila
- Swatch
- Coca-Cola
- Guess'
- Generra
- Bennetton

Our hair, however, is as different as ever. Girls, for the most part, seem to have their hair cut at a medium length, and although the styles differ, curls and waves dominate. Some of the Guys went wild in the fall with decorations shaved into their hair, and many others "flat-topped" it. At this rate, we may all show up at our class reunions wearing the same outfits!

1986

by Rachelle

It Was the Worst of Times

1986 ended with much excitement and surprise, but also confusion and questions. Especially one: EXACTLY WHO is running this nation of ours? IS it Ronald Reagan, the president, or someone else? Why is this question asked? Here's the story. After announcing to the public that WE, the Americans, will not negotiate with terrorists in any way, shape, or form, (And he proved this with the attack on Quaddafi.) it appears that we had done just that. The United States government was sending arms to Iran, a supposedly "terrorist" country in exchange for hostages held by Shi'ite Moslems. Then, we sent the money that we made by this arms deal to fund the Contras in Nicaragua. Excuse me, Mr. President, but isn't Iran a terrorist country, as you have mentioned before? And wasn't there a law passed in Congress stating that we are not to send funds to the Contras? I guess I was wrong to believe in your word. Oh, thank you for correcting me! As you explained so diplomatically, we are dealing with "moderate factions" within a terrorist country. Now that we got that straight, here are some more people involved in this scandal: Lt. Col. Oliver North, a NSA staff member who has taken the fifth, William Casey,

Director of the CIA, who suffered a stroke and retired, and Chief of Staff Donald Regan, who has resigned under pressure. The Plot thickens as we add Senate investigation committees, namely the Tower commission, who held President Reagan accountable for the sequence of events. And your response, Mr. President? "Could you remember what you did on August 5, 1985?" Come on President Reagan, get real. This isn't Hollywood!

Meanwhile, President Reagan scrambled to patch up his credibility. In the forty year history of nationwide polls of presidents, never before has a President's popularity dropped so sharply and so quickly. Americans were doubtful about the things Reagan was saying. Was it the truth, or a well covered-up lie? As more facts are revealed, the truth will come out. We shall see.

Another subject of growing concern was the dreaded disease called AIDS, Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome. Once contracting this virus, the person does not survive. The major problem involved with AIDS is not limited to one group, race, or sex, as it was originally believed. This dreaded disease has no prejudice. The fear caused all to think twice about who they were with, and unfortunately started to make people look suspiciously at each other. The extreme of this fear was LaRouche's attempt to pass a bill in San Francisco to quarantine all AIDS patients. This bill did not pass. To fight this fear, Surgeon General Kopp started a campaign to distribute information about AIDS. He also recommended that, not counting abstinence, the safest means of prevention from contracting this insidious disease is the use of condoms. In 1982, there were 144 cases reported in the U.S. with a death toll of 46. Five years later, there are an estimated 3 million cases in the U.S. with a death toll of 30,000. Currently, there are over 10 million persons with AIDS worldwide, according to a study done by John Hopkins University. AIDS often is not suspected until 2 years after exposure. Each person with whom the victim had intimate contact, has also been exposed. Those people will either contract the disease, or unwittingly, become a carrier. Eventually, however, (within 8 years) the carrier will also perish. AIDS cannot be fought with fear. It can only be defeated with the strong arm of knowledge. So, it is up to us to get rid of this disease, or rather the spread of it.

Not to be forgotten are the other events that occurred this past year. Natural disasters such as the earthquakes in Mexico and San Salvador, caused major destruction; and the not so natural disasters such as the accident at Chernobyl nuclear reactor in the Soviet Union, caused all nations to look at the real dangers of nuclear energy. And also the ferry boat accident in the channel between London and Belgium, where innocent lives were lost. Despite all the bad events of this past year, America still had a reason to celebrate.

To start off the year of celebration, Americans came together at the party of the year held in honor of one of our great monuments. After the Lady Liberty received a much needed facelift and renovation, millions squeezed into Ellis Island to join in first hand while billions of others world-wide watched the spectacular event which lasted four days.

And coming up this summer is the two-hundredth birthday of our nation's Constitution, which should prove to be another week of partying. And while the nation celebrated, we in the Bay Area celebrated the 50th birthday of both the Golden Gate Bridge and the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge. Also celebrating birthdays are Coca-Cola's 100th and Sherlock Holmes' 100th. Hollywood celebrates 100 years in the entertainment industry and the Peace Corps had it's 50th birthday.

Not only did Americans celebrate, but so did the Royal Family. Queen Elizabeth's second son, Andrew, married Sara Fergeson, "Fergie" as she was affectionately called by the British. Other weddings of the year included the Kennedy clan when Carolyn married Edwin Schlossberg and Maria Shriver married movie actor, Arnold Schwarzeneger. Congratulations to all and Best Wishes!"

This also was the year for sports. With corporate sponsors and Dennis Connor, we took back the Americas Cup from the land down under. The New York Mets beat out the Boston Red Sox, and for the football tans: The New York Giants trampled the Denver Broncos in Superbowl XXI. What a year for New York!! Unfortunately for San Francisco and Bay Area fans, the 49ers did not have the best year. But despite major back surgery, Joe Montana made a more than speedy recovery and was back on the field in 8 weeks!

In the wake of Willie Nelson's contributions for our own, "Hands Across America

was launched. The purpose of "Hands Across America" was to raise desperately needed funds for our homeless. Ironically, in the land of plenty, the number of homeless increased. Only this time, the homeless consisted of struggling families that were hit by unfair blows of fate. White and blue collar workers who lost their jobs, found it impossible to pay their mortgages, car payments and other loans. When their houses foreclosed and their cars and furniture repossessed, they suddenly became dependent on city missions. The hardest hit are the children through no fault of their own

Because they lack a place to live, they cannot receive welfare and because they have no money to get started again, it often leaves them in an endless circle of red tape. There was an unprecedented response to this idea, which was "Hands Across America." This human chain, which spanned from coast-to-coast, raised millions of dollars, but due to expenses of the event, like television commercials, the actual amount of money going to the homeless was decreased substantially. However, at least the problem has now been addressed, and now the hope of the homeless has been lifted. But for how long?

At the end of the last year, preparations to get this year's football team together were being made. Through the summer they slaved, working their way through double days and ending them with hot showers. When school started, and the games began, our team was definitely in high spirits. We were able to hang tough through a difficult season, culminating in a victorious homecoming.

It was another successful season for the AHS cross-country team. The girls' team, 4-3, placed fifth in their league. The boys' team, 5-2, fourth in their league. At the beginning of the season, the team went to Frogtown in Calaveras County. Medals and one trophy were brought back by the team which placed second overall. Towards the end of the season, the team went to the League Meet. The girls' team missed going to the North Coast Sectionals (NCS) by one point. The top three girl runners were Phoebe Emker, Maria Delgado, and Meg Peterson. The boys' team placed fourth in the League Meet and went to NCS. The top three boy runners at the league meet were Raffi Kevorkian, Ramyar Tabatabaian, and Brad Jennings.

is probably the best way to describe this year's Varsity and J.V. season. Although the teams did not walk away with all victories, their team was successful in other ways.

They're a really good group of guys, said coach Doug Kagawa about both the J.V. and Varsity teams. Both Etchegorry and I are having one of our best seasons ever, since the team is so much fun.

"A Deserving 10-0 Record"

This year, the Albany High Wrestling team dominated their competition, winning all 10 of their Dual Meets, on their way to the Central Coast Conference title.

The Cougar team swept the league tournament by almost 50 points, sending 12 wrestlers on to the North Coast Section.

P. Mello, A. Mikkelsen, J. Clark, and the "Slick Lover," A Ravan, joined the Varsity squad over Christmas for a trip to Los Angeles. While there, the Cougar grapplers terrorized a 33 team tournament at Northview High, and left Disneyland in ruins.

This is the second year in a row that the Cougar Wrestlers have won the C.C.C. title. What makes the Cougars this good? Lots of hard work and dedication on the part of coaches, Kermit Bankson, Paul Weidaker, and Sal Ferrito. These three men provide excellent coaching, as well as friendship, for the Albany wrestlers. Without them, the program would not be as successful.

The success of Albany High Wrestling this year must be attributed to team spirit. It was not through individual heroes, but rather through hard work, dedication, and excellent coaching that we managed to capture the League Championship for the second year in a row.

Again!

The Albany High Track Team had a totally new start this year. Not only did they have a renovated track, but a fresh face arrived to fill the position of coach. Carl Sumner, a past hurdler for El Cerrito High, came to add spirit and unity to the team. Freshmen girls had a large impact on the team this year, making up half of the Varsity Girls' team. Participants of the field events took it upon themselves to coach themselves because of the shortage of assistant coaches. The team was placed in a tougher league this year, but none the less, they went into the season with determination and high hopes.

This year Albany High's Tennis Team scored two 'aces' (7-0) against Presentation, and ended up with a 4-6 record (the best in 3 years). This im-

Amazing Arithmetic

Master Mathsmen

$ax+c(by) = by+ax$ Is this some alien language used by the anthropods of the Andromeda Galaxy? No, far from it. Kids in the math classes at A.H.S. face equations like this everyday. From basic problems to complex proofs of trigonometric properties, the classes not only teach students numbers, but also show them how to think logically in order to solve all types of problems.

English

In keeping with Albany's attempt to present an interesting academic program, the English Department is foremost in offering a variety of thought-provoking classes. In addition to basic grammar and composition courses, Albany's curriculum includes Satire and Humor, Mythology, Mass Media, Psychological Literature, American Literature, Dramatic Literature, Journalism, Classical Literature and an honor's course in English Literature. A novel approach to expressing oneself in writing!

History

Albany High's Social Studies Department encompasses both required classes, like U.S. History, U.S. Government and World History, and electives, like Medieval History and Humanities. All of these classes teach us an understanding of how our society developed and how it conducts itself today in our world. We're lucky that at A.H.S. we have a full year of U.S. Government which insures that Seniors will be able to participate intelligently in our Government. Studying history, even though boring at times, gives direction to students, for it's hard to know where we are going if we don't know where we've been.

Remember those freezing mornings out on Memorial Field? We all tried so hard to play football on that frost-covered grass without slipping

Who can forget seeing all our pals dressed out in their swimming gear? We all were so embarrassed when we really had nothing to hide or flaunt back then anyway!

Last of all, how could P.E. be complete without Mr. Bankson's famous monologue about the "summer/winter of 42/52?" We all must have it memorized by now!

To the underclassmen who have yet to experience all this "FUN," have a ball!

The Many Faces of P.E.

Mechanical Drawing and Print

Students learn to use a variety of tools and techniques to create mechanical drawings and prints. They also learn to use a variety of materials and equipment to create mechanical drawings and prints. They also learn to use a variety of materials and equipment to create mechanical drawings and prints.

Advanced students get a chance to apply these skills on Epson computers.

SCIENCE

Whether it's dissecting a frog, solving a physics equation, counting ladybugs, or measuring millivolts, Albany High is a great place for learning science.

Expressing Views in Family Life

Abortion, death, homosexuality, drug abuse — These are among the topics discussed in Family Life. Mr. Doug Kagawa leads the class, but basically the students add the most depth to the conversations that take place. During the semester, two weeks are devoted to 'egg-care.' Each student receives an egg that he or she is to treat as their own child. Hopefully, they experience what being a parent is all about. This class is designed to help teens deal with the pressures of adolescence.

"It is often easier to fight for one's principles than to live up to them." — Adlai Stevenson

Artistic Expression

The art classes at Albany High are great places to let your creative ideas run wild. You can draw to your hearts content, paint, sculpt or use a number of other media to create your masterpiece. From calligraphy to clay, the variety of materials that you can use is endless.

The Art Dept. also offers a large choice of classes you can take, including basic and advanced art, ceramics, calligraphy and exploratory art. With a good imagination and a little talent, art can be a really exciting and enjoyable class.

Computer Programming and Typing

Learning basic skills is an important part of life. Computer programming as well as typing will be a help as in college, after the school. Albany High offers a variety of classes for our beginning and advanced students.

Global Communications at A.H.S.

The foreign language department went through a lot of changes this year. Wendy Ruebman left to live in Europe. Also, the two advanced classes, 4 & 5 were combined. The annual trip to Mexico, put on by Mr. Cruz, won't take place this year. Instead, Patricia Moore planned a trip to France. Albany High is very grateful to have such generous teachers, who give their time out of school as well as during the day.

Focusing on Expressions in Photography

Photography is a challenging course that offers many options for assignments. Students learn to develop their own film, and produce their own exhilarating pictures. Things such as depth perception, contrast, and composition are a few of the topics of study.

Wood and Autoshop

Expressions in Wood and Steel

Have you ever wanted to build a table or soup up your car? If so, Albany High has the classes for you. Auto and Wood are classes that teach woodworking and car repair. Students in Woodshop make jewelry boxes, tables, and even grandfather clocks, in addition to many other useful objects. Cars are donated to the autoshop for the students to work on and repair. Both classes foster creativity and give students valuable skills that they can use for the rest of their lives.

You did what to this car?

Albany's Board

The Albany Board of Education is an important part of the School District, deciding the school's future policies and controlling finances for the schools.

Trying to find ways to help the schools work can be difficult and because of grave financial difficulties, the Board of Education may be forced to cut back some programs throughout the district. Even with the cuts, A.H.S. will continue to be one of the best schools in the bay area because of the great teachers, administrators and, of course, the students

THIRTY-FIVE YEARS OF DEDICATION

Charles Clark
1952

William Savage
1953

Ernest Douglas
1952

The 1986-87 Albany High School Yearbook Staff is busily dedicating this year's edition to the three teachers who have been at AHS for thirty-five years, Charlie Clark, Bill Savage and Ernie Douglas.

Charlie Clark teaches U.S. History, as he has done exclusively for the past five years in room 111, which he sometimes calls "the blue room." In his thirty-five years teaching here, he has taught eleven different classes in social studies and English. He taught Adult School for ten years, coached many different sports for an average of fourteen years, and has been negotiator and President of the Albany Teachers' Association for several years. Of the more than 15,000 students that he has taught since 1952, he finds the students "to be the most refreshing and rewarding part of teaching at A.H.S. I don't think there is a high school in the entire bay area that can match the unique characteristics of Albany."

Bill Savage has been at Albany for thirty-four years, during which time he has taught Consumer Education, Driver's Education, Mechanical Drawing, 8th grade Social Studies, Physical Education, Math, and Work Experience/Vocational Education. He was the head football and track coach and a counselor for many years. In addition to his involvement at the high school, he has made generous contributions to Albany's community as well. Observing that disrespect for teachers, general irresponsibility and greater drug abuse has risen over the years, he still agrees with Charlie in that, "the students themselves" are his favorite part about teaching.

Ernie Douglas began at Albany the same year as Charlie. He's always been involved with Albany High's instrumental musical activities. His accomplishments include Orchestra Director, Marching Band Director, Concert Band Director, and Jazz Band Director. He is also the supervisor of all of the school district's music groups. According to Ernie, his students are, "bright and well-behaved and many of them seem to do a lot of planning for the future."

The 1986-87 Yearbook Staff thanks YOU for your thirty-five years of love and dedication to this school and community.

A VERY EXPRESSIVE YEAR!

The students did it
earning no grade
The teacher did it
without being paid

No camera, nor strobe
did they have in September,
using their own
'til way past December

As deadlines grew near,
the anxiety, the fear
They'd look at each other with, "Why are we here?"

But, the pictures turned out,
and the writing was fun.
And the layouts looked good when their work was all done

They're proud of themselves,
this hard-working eleven,
to present to you
the Cougar 87!

The first part of the paper discusses the importance of understanding the cultural context of the research. It highlights the need for researchers to be sensitive to the values and beliefs of the communities they are studying. This is particularly important in the field of education, where cultural differences can significantly impact learning outcomes.

The second part of the paper focuses on the methodology used in the study. It describes the process of selecting participants, collecting data, and analyzing the results. The authors emphasize the importance of using a mixed-methods approach to capture both quantitative and qualitative data.

The third part of the paper presents the findings of the study. It shows that there are significant differences in learning outcomes between different cultural groups. These findings have important implications for educators and policymakers, who need to take cultural differences into account when designing educational programs.

The final part of the paper discusses the limitations of the study and suggests areas for future research. The authors acknowledge that the study was limited by its sample size and the specific context in which it was conducted. They suggest that future research should explore the cultural context of education in other countries and with larger samples.
